
Rick and Morty Become The Ultimate Game Invaders

Wednesday, June 28, 2017

As the highly-anticipated third season of hit series Rick and Morty returns this summer, Adult Swim Games offers fans yet another fix for mad-scientist, Rick Sanchez and grandson, Morty. The infamous duo joins other popular series characters and custom themed items, crashing into a collection of top multiplayer and VR games: Rocket League (Psyonix), Move or Die (Those Awesome Guys), Gang Beasts (Boneloaf), and Steam VR Home (Valve).

Each game will incorporate custom Rick and Morty characters and gear seamlessly in fun and exciting ways. Battle against friends as Bird Person or Mr. Meeseeks in Move or Die, or suit up Rick or Morty style in Gang Beasts while terrorizing enemies in hazardous conditions. Fans can now customize their playing experience and show off their love for the hit series in brand new worlds.

Unlike any other network, Adult Swim provides multiple ways to interact with its fans by creating experiences that take viewers beyond traditional programming, reinventing television and the relationship between networks and audiences.

Fans can also tune into the Rick and Morty Live-Streaming Event tomorrow, Thursday, June 29th hosted by series co-creators Dan Harmon and Justin Roiland on AdultSwim.com and featuring new reveals about the upcoming season. Some lucky fans will be in the studio audience in Los Angeles but everyone can watch live starting at 9pm EST/6pm PST.

The Rickmobile (Rickmobile.com), a large-scale Rick-shaped mobile pop-up shop is currently on a 50+ city tour and the Adult Swim On the Green (AdultSwimPresents.com), carnival-like experience, is simultaneously traveling across select cities for fans to enjoy games, win prizes, and catch screenings of the network's upcoming shows, including Rick and Morty.

Get Game Press Assets HERE